British Comment On Liquor

LONDON, June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Commenting on the American liquor laws are being used to damage our shipping, says the newspaper. It also calls attention to the continued raising of the American customs against British goods. "To say nothing of irritating incidents like the recent interference with our cotton trade."

"This country," it continues, "has dealt fairly with America. We might therefore, expect the civilities and courtesies of ordinary life. As we do not get them we are almost driven to the consideration that there is reciprocity in these matters. We believe that America might respect us rather more and treat us rather better if we acted strictly on the principle of behaving to her as she behaves to us."

Lasker Replies To Critics Of Leviathan's Trial Trip

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Replying to criticisms of the forthcoming trial trip of the Leviathan, Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board, declared in a formal statement last night that provision for the trial had been included in the reconditioning plans drawn up under a Democratic administration and that it was indispensable part of the plans.

Characterizing the attacks as "paraly politics," Mr. Lasker called upon the Democratic national committee, whose headquarters here recently issued a statement criticizing the projected five day cruise of the liner to Cuban waters as a waste of public funds, to "forget for the moment its temptation to misrepresent for political purposes."

Plans and specifications for the reconditioning of the liner, Mr. Lasker said, were prepared by experts engaged by the Shipping Board when John Burton Payne was chairman in January of last year, he said, the experts asked for an appropriation of $120,000 to cover the cost of the trial trip, contemplating that it should extend at least five days, and the item was approved by congress.

In accordance with the universal practice, Mr. Lasker said, the experts "insisted that 400 to 500 guests be asked on the Leviathan's trial trip." In order that the service machinery of the ship might be given a thorough test. Of the total estimates cost of $120,000 for the trip, Mr. Lasker estimated that not more than $13,000 would be used to pay for the "food and comfort" of the guests.

New Flood For Kansas

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Several sections of Kansas again face floods with the third rise of streams within the last two weeks. At Wichita, a new overflow of Chisholm Creek and the drainage canal is predicted with another inundation of the northern section of the city in prospect following a rain of almost cloud burst proportions yesterday.

Seven along by a 54-mile wind, the rain filled the streets and began to flood stores and caused merchants to rebuild the sand bag walls that protected their stores during the flood of several days ago.

Residents along the Solomon River at Smith Center fled for the third time in two weeks last night when that stream flooded the low lands. Motor and interurban traffic in the vicinity of Pittsburg is blocked. At Columbus, near Pittsburg, the rain was reported at four inches yesterday.

The Neosho River at McOne is reported rising and blocking traffic between Pittsburg and Parsons. The Neosho River at Iowa, it is reported to be the highest in many years, the flood stage of 1904.

Two persons were killed by the storm in Southeast Kansas yesterday.

Auto, Said To Carry Six Persons, Plunge Into River

CLEVELAND, O., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—A diver was preparing to search the bottom of Cuyahoga River, at the foot of St. Clair avenue, this morning in an effort to establish whether six persons went to their death in an automobile that was found in the river after a nine hour search. No bodies were found in the machine. Persons who saw the machine just before it plunged into the river last night said there were six persons in the car. There was no license tag on the car when it was brought to the surface.

The car was stolen last Tuesday night police said. The owner was located through the engine number last Tuesday night, police said. J. D. Stanton, marine diver, searched the bottom of the river, but found no bodies. If any one was in the car when it went to the river the strong current would have washed the bodies far down toward the harbor entrance, Stanton said.

Police have been unable to determine whether the driver of the car lost control of it as it sped down St. Clair avenue and leaped to save his life or whether thieves purposely ran the machine into the river.

PLEADS GUILTY TO COUNTERFEITING

CLEVELAND, O., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Operations of the international counterfeiting ring, believed unearched here with arrest of a man who is said to have been turning out spurious bank notes in five thousand dollar lots, came to a definite halt today. Alexis Terescho, 29, expert photographer, who admitted to secret vice agents that he had supplied had money to a gang operating on an international scale, pleaded guilty to the charge of counterfeiting and was held in default of $50,000 bail. In Pittsburgh, where large parts of the bogus money were put in circulation, five men are held on charges of passing counterfeit notes. Letters, addressed to Prague, Bremen and several Russian cities, and which contained samples of the handwork of the Cleveland artist, were found in the possession of the Pittsburgh men. The money was distributed principally in Essingham, Ill., Detroit, Pittsburgh and Cleveland. According to Terescho's alleged confession, he reproduced bank notes for the gang on a percentage basis, receiving $40 in real money for every $100 in counterfeit.

Harding To Battle For Support Of The West

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1923)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Harding is preparing in advance many of the speeches he is to deliver on his Western trip and there is plenty of advice being volunteered as to what he should say and how he ought to say it.

All of the Presidential contingent hereabouts which includes not only persons in official life but the political advisers, high in the councils of the Republican party look upon the western trip as an affair of paramount political importance. The President himself has tried to soft pedal the political side and keep his trip and speeches on a non-partisan basis but the talk in Washington constantly is of the effects of the journey on the possible renomination and reelection of Mr. Harding.

Right now the feeling inside the Presidential circle is one of confidence. A few days ago one or two men in the group of betting disposition wagered $5,000 that Harding would be re-nominated and reelected. Somebody in New York took the (Continued On Page Five)

Maughan On Test Flight

DAYTON, O., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Lieutenant R. L. Maughan, hopped off from McCook Field here at 7:00 o'clock this morning for St. Joseph, Mo., on the third leg of his test flight preparatory to making his "daylight" trans-continental trip.

Lieutenant Maughan arrived at McCook Field shortly before noon yesterday, flying from Bolling Field, Washington, D. C. He had intended leaving yesterday afternoon for St. Joseph, but postponed his flight because of rain.

Maughan is flying a DeHavilland 4-B observation plane, and will make arrangements at various stations on this trip for refueling and overhauling the all-metal pursuit plane. He will fly in his speed flight, which is capable of attaining a speed of 175 miles an hour.

He also is making careful observations of the country he will traverse, taking note of fields which could be used for emergency landings, and other topographical conditions he will encounter.

The speed-flight probably will not be undertaken for three weeks. Lieutenant Maughan expects to return to New York from California in the DeHavilland plane, flying over the same route.

Crow Explains To Governor

COLUMBUS, O., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Mayor Charles Crow, of Niles, yesterday appeared before Governor Donahoe to answer to charges of laxity in the enforcement of prohibition and other laws, participated in an hour's conference with the governor and returned to his home without the governor announcing what had transpired. An official announcement was promised today after the governor had conferred with other persons interested in the case.

Mayor Crow, who was accompanied by counsel, presented his own case before the governor and said after the conference that he believed the governor was well satisfied with the persons and elements who had made the charges against him. He had been making no effort to co-operate with him in the enforcement of the laws. Law enforcement conditions were unsatisfactory to him as well as his critics, Mayor Crow said, but the nature of his city made it difficult to bring about strict compliance in the prohibition laws as well as others.

Crow was the fourth mayor to appear before the governor to answer such charges. Mayor Grall, of Lorain, and Fair of New Philadelphia, having been given thirty days to "clean up" their towns, and Mayor Vogt, of Massillon, having been removed by the governor after a public hearing.

Cordial Note From Britain

PARIS, June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The text of the British note requesting a definition of the French understanding of passive resistance has not been made public, but Le Matin today assures its readers it was accompanied by no commentary and gave no idea of what opinion Prime Minister Baldwin may hold.

The note was worded most cordially, says the newspaper. It asked supplementary explanations, leaving on the French occasion, such as what France means by "cessation of passive resistance" and also what precise guarantees France exacts for the payment of reparations.

The terms of the French reply, which Premier Poincare submitted to Brussels before forwarding it to London, are easy to forecast. Le Matin continues. Although it is natural to expect unfortunate incidents in the field, it is inadmissible, in the opinion of the newspaper writer, that Berlin should for example, threaten the railroad men with dismissal if they work for the French, or the business men with prison terms if they do business with the French.

EVERYTHING PEACEFUL

LONDON, June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Official reports of the latest phase of the Franco-British communications regarding the Ruhr and reparations agree for the most part that complete cordiality has been maintained and that the memorandum which the London government sent to Paris on Wednesday was received by France in a most friendly spirit.

"Flivver Plane" Proves A Success

Lieutenant George Barbot's demonstration of his motor-glider, or "flivver plane," as it has been nicknamed in this country, at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, New York, has practically proved his contention that the day of general air plane travel is not far distant. The tiny monoplane, weighing only 300 pounds, attained a speed of seventy miles an hour on a gallon of gasoline. The French aviator put it through severe tests, and it answered each time, just as it did in its recent flight across the English Channel. Barbot has stated that the plane, which has a fifteen-horsepower motor, can be manufactured in quantity for less than $400.

St. Mary's Reunion Delightful Success

One of the most successful of the Alumni banquets ever held, was the 1923 gathering of last evening at the Elk parlors when seventy-five were in attendance, including the sixteen members of this year's class.

The members of the class of 1923 were honored guests of the Alumni Association. The banquet session was followed by a program of short addresses after which the annual election of officers was held.

Dennis Bartus was chosen president of the Alumni Association for the coming year. Following the election the floor was cleared and dancing and cards were enjoyed until a late hour.

Father T. A. Goebel presided as toastmaster. Earl Reinhardt, of the Class of 1910, president of the Association, delivered the address of welcome to the Class of 1923. Charles Hurth responded on behalf of the incoming members. "Beauty" was the subject of a toast by Miss Anna Glockner, also of the Class of 1923.

Miss Clara Vetter, also of this year's class, had for her toast "The Class of '23." Dennis Bartus took for his topic "Loyalty." "The Growth of St. Mary's High School" was the subject of an interesting toast by Miss Dorothy Hagg of the Class of 1915.

George Vetter of the Class of 1913 spoke on "The New Central High School."

Letters from absent members were read, including one from Sister M. Arquia of Rochester, and one from Victor Labedz of Notre Dame.

At the election the following officers were chosen:

President—Dennis Bartus, Class of 1916.

Vice President—Miss Dorothy Hagg, Class of 1915.

Secretary—Thaddeus Labedz, Class of 1922.

The six-piece orchestra included: Charles Keltz, piano; Edward Knoebel, clarinet; Richard Haag, violin; Elmore Bickel, violin; Paul Schmidt, banjo; and Ralph Ross, banjo.

From president indications Attorney William J. Sprague and Judge H. Stanley McCall will be the contestants for the Municipal Judgeship in the November election.

While judges are elected on a non-partisan ticket both Judge McCall and Attorney Sprague have filed their petitions with the Board of Elections, seeking the endorsement of their parties in the August primaries.

Attorney Sprague, who is a Republican, served several months on the Municipal bench by virtue of his appointment by Governor Harry L. Davis, but when he went to the mat with Judge McCall in the election for the unexpired term, the latter got the decision. Mr. Sprague hopes to reverse that verdict this time out, while Judge McCall, who is a Democrat, is confident of repeating.

Verdict For Mrs. Croker

DUBLIN, June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—A verdict in favor of Mrs. Bula Croker was found by the jury in the contest over the will of Richard Croker this afternoon.

The chief justice said he was much impressed by the testimony showing the service of Mrs. Croker by Richard Croker Jr., on his father and also the charges brought in the suit at Palm Beach. The jury, he declared, would probably think such conduct was unlikely to make the father regard his son favorably as an object of testamentary benefactions.

When the crowded court room realized that Mrs. Croker had won on every count, the throng burst into tremendous cheering and hand-clapping. The court tried vainly for a considerable time to restore order.

The allegation that Bula Croker was already the wife of Guy R. Marone at the time of her marriage to Mr. Croker was declared by the jury to be unsubstantiated.

The jury also found Mrs. Croker not guilty of inducing her husband against his children.

The chief justice assessed the costs of the proceedings against Richard Croker, Jr., as the plaintiff and Mrs. Ethel C. White as the intervenant.

Election officials predict that a primary for assessors' nomination will not draw a large vote.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multified cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoons of Multified will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff, and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. You can get Multified cocoon oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few bottles will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure and ask for "Multified."—Advertisement

No Place To Light? Try The Country Club

In the future when you are flying about in the air near Portsmouth, with "no place to light," just turn the prop of your craft toward the new Country Club, for included in the plans for the club grounds is an up-to-date landing field for airplanes. This was among the matters considered yesterday when J. B. McGovern, of the firm of Ross, Hatch & McGovern, was here going over the local situation with officials of the Country Club.

Mr. McGovern and officials also discussed the establishment of bridge paths to various parts of the grounds, a feature which is proving very popular for many eastern clubs.

The water supply for the entire proposition was also taken up with Mr. McGovern and details will be decided upon by the officials of the club. Mr. McGovern having made a number of recommendations.

Otto Zoellner Sells Farm To Fred Babst

A real estate transaction of unusual interest was the sale Thursday by Otto Zoellner, of his Dogwood Ridge farm, to Fred Babst of Scioto Trail. The consideration was not made public.

Mr. Zoellner, at that time in the jewelry business in Portsmouth, purchased the tract, known about Wheelersburg, as the James Cranston farm, from E. Donaldson, in 1910. It comprises 70 acres and is, probably, the best equipped farm in the county, having a fine large dwelling house on it, a huge barn, and many outbuildings, with all up-to-date appointments, while the land is in a high state of fertility.

The retirement of Mr. Zoellner from agricultural pursuits will be received with regret and a distinct loss to the county. He has been not only an enthusiast therein, but has given in his work a striking demonstration of the value of modern methods in farming. He will vacate the first of December and has no plans as to what he will do after that. In the fall he will dispose of his fine Holstein herd, which has a high reputation over the state, and will also offer his general farm equipment for sale.

Mr. Babst, who has been operating as a dairyman and truck farmer on the Richardson farm, on Scioto Trail, will move his business to the Zoellner place.

Talks To Bakers

Members of the Portsmouth Baker's Association at a meeting yesterday afternoon enjoyed an address by J. W. Hill, of Memphis, Tenn., who had for his subject, "Expenses and Profits in Baking." He illustrated his remarks with blackboard work. Mr. Hill, formerly an accountant for a large baking concern in Memphis, brought to local bakers, many practical hints designed to promote efficiency and greater returns in their work.

Aged Woman Injured

Mrs. Mildred Kratzert, 82, well known resident of the West End, who lives with her son, George Kratzert, at 128 Second street, slipped and fell yesterday in an alley near her home, suffering a badly sprained hip and numerous bruises. She was helped to her home by persons who saw her fall. Although she was reported better last evening, her condition is regarded as serious, because of her age.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Sheridan and Mrs. Nellie Marlow have returned from Hiram, Ohio, where they attended the commencement exercises of Hiram College. They were accompanied home by Donald M. Sheridan, a senior, and Miss Helen Yocke, a junior, of Soerest, Ky., who will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan at their home, 1616 Grandview avenue, over Sunday. Carmon Oakley was a member of the 1923 class at Hiram College and the degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon him by President Miner Lee Bates. Rev. and Mrs. Charles H. Oakley and daughter, Alice, were present at the commencement. Previous to the day Carmon Oakley received his coveted sheepskin, he was called to Gray's Hall, where, on behalf of many of his friends of the First Christian church of this city, he was presented with a very beautiful watch, chain and knife, the watch and knife being engraved with the monogram, "C. O. Y."

The presentation speech was made by F. W. Sheridan, who handed to the young graduate the names of those who had made the gift possible. Carmon was overwhelmed, and for once in his life could not find words to express his gratitude. Miss Virginia Life, local secretary of the American Red Cross Society, was also present at the exercises. She returned home Thursday. In all there were 30 members of the graduating class. Hiram College will celebrate its 75th anniversary in 1925. It is recognized as one of the strongest Discrete colleges in the brotherhood, having had an enrollment of 351 this year and expecting to reach the 500 mark by 1925. Under the able leadership of its president, Miner Lee Bates, the institution has made rapid forward strides and holds an enviable position among the educational institutions of the country. James A. Garfield, one of the martyred presidents of the United States, was president of Hiram College when he was elected the chief executive of the nation.

Judging from the interest taken in the little playlet, "Mrs. McGreevy's Boarding House," to be given at the First Christian Church this evening at 7:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society, an unusually large crowd will be present. The entertainment will be given in order to raise sufficient funds to defray the expenses of at least two delegates who expect to attend the state convention in the near future. Zoliani's orchestra will furnish the music for the entertainment. The admission is only fifteen cents and the general public is most cordially invited to be present.

Victor Labadie, 3109 Walnut street, is expected home today from the University of Notre Dame, where he has just completed his first year of a course in law.

Miss Helen Pratt, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Howard Mackey, of 1811 Summit street, for a few days, left yesterday for her home in Trenton.

Algonu Grobel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grobel of Grimes Avenue, who underwent an operation for tonsillitis at Mercy Hospital three weeks ago, is quite well now.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bradford of Moulton Place will leave Sunday for Louisville, Ky., to visit with their son Forrest, who is a musician at the Walnut Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. David Jones of Harvard Place have returned from a week's visit with relatives at Oak Hill and Jackson.

Thomas White of Grimes Avenue is spending a three weeks' vacation in Bethel, Ohio.

A Delicious Luncheon

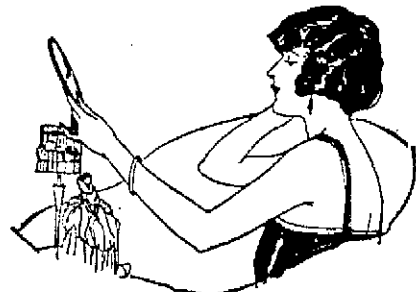

Adelicious light luncheon consists of hot fresh asparagus (well buttered and made savory with lemon juice) served with Dorell's Golden Crisp Potato Chips. These potato chips are far more delicious than the ordinary kind. Buy them at your grocer's.

Last evening, at eight o'clock, Miss Vasse Johnson, charming daughter of Mrs. Irene Johnson, in her beautifully decorated home on Fourth street, became the bride of Mr. Angelle Chapin, Rev. Georgiades of Columbus officiating with the marriage ceremony of the Greek Orthodox Church.

The ceremony was followed by a reception and wedding dinner for the immediate relatives and friends of the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Chapin left this morning for New York where they will spend their honeymoon, after which Mr. Chapin will return and resume his duties as proprietor of the Terminals restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Frowine, of Fourth street are home from Washington, D. C., where they attended the Shriners' Conclave.

Three Stills And Youth Arrested

Special To The Times

Greenup, Ky., June 15—Sheriff Callahan and Deputies J. Shepherd of Fullerton and Tinsley and Sturgill of this place captured three big stills in two raids yesterday, but arrested only one person, a 16 year old lad, whom the officers claim they found in charge of two stills.

The first raid early in the day was on Indian Run, back of Russell, where a 70 gallon still and 200 gallons of mash were taken. The owners of the still had made good their escape.

Later in the day the officers visited Womack Hollow, near this place, and took by surprise a youth giving the name of Henry Dameron and his age as 16.

The officers claim the lad was watching over two stills, one of 60 gallons capacity and the other 80 gallons, along with 850 gallons of mash in his barrels. Five gallons of completed moonshine ready for market were also found by the officers at this place. The officers believe that the man connected with the still had heard of their being in that vicinity and had deserted the place, leaving the youth in charge. He was brought to the local jail, where he awaits trial.

The following teachers were engaged for next term: Joseph Harness, seventh and eighth grades; Miss Aubrey Young, fifth and sixth grades; Edwin Duncan, third and fourth grades; Miss Violet Higgins, first and second grades, and Miss Virginia Hurter, primary.

Hemphill Better

Holmes Hemphill, 1410 Center street, injured in an auto accident on Scioto Trail last Saturday, was reported much improved in Hempstead Hospital Friday.

DOOMED MAN'S FRIEND BROUGHT TIMELY AID

George Jenkins, 40 years old, 1315 Ninth street, Portsmouth, employed at the N. & W. R. R. for 12 years had watched his health decline until every one thought he had but little time to live. The doctors who had treated him said he had float- ing kidneys, gallstones and other troubles and advised an operation. He would not consent, and he refused today that he be refused for the picture of health and a long life as he has not done for years.

Here is his story as he told it to Mr. Dyar, the Health Evangelist, who introduced World's Tonic in the city: "I tried them all and none did me any good. I suffered all the time with pains in my stomach. I would float up after meals and had to take a physic every day. A friend of mine who had great faith in World's Tonic bought me a bottle and I decided to take it. Imagine my joy and gratitude when I found myself speedily improving, getting better every day and feeling better than I had in many months. Within seven days I felt like a new man, and I can tell you I shall be thankful all my life for the wonderful good it has done for me. Since then I have learned of hundreds of others sufferers who have also been greatly benefited by this medicine. That is just another case that demonstrates what World's Tonic is doing for suffering people everywhere. Mr. Dyar in speaking of his work, pointed out that numerous local people, among whom are some of our prominent business men, have obtained fine results but have asked that no public mention be made of their case.

World's Tonic is sold by Wurster's and all other good drug stores at only one dollar per large bottle. It is also being sold and demonstrated every evening by Mr. Dyar in his health lectures in connection with the free minstrels at 14th and Robinson avenue.—Advertisement.

Plan Padlock For Doors Of Many Detroit Resorts

DETROIT, MICH., June 15.—(By the Associated Press).—Federal and county officers today were engaged in carrying out the Government's new attack on illicit liquor in the Detroit district—the serving of papers in injunction suits against the owners and proprietors of about 50 near-by saloons, roadhouses and other places where it is alleged liquor has been sold.

As the result of these processes the Federal Government hopes to put padlocks on the doors and boards across the windows of the alleged resorts in Detroit and its suburbs, where it is charged, liquor drinkers for some time have staged midnight revels and where the entrances to these places never have been barred to any, except prohibition agents.

Izzy is Again Busy
Acting on information obtained from this part of the state during the last two months by Izzy Einstein and Moe Smith, New York dry sleuths, whose colorful methods of obtaining information against illicit liquor vendors have gained them national reputations, Federal authorities obtained injunction orders in United States District Court here today. Immediately afterward Federal representatives began the rounds of the resorts serving the papers.

Criminal action against any land-lord believed to have rented their properties to persons whom they knew to be bootleggers is threatened by United States District Attorney Earl R. Davis. Such charges would be preferred under the conspiracy statutes. To-day's injunctions were obtained under the padlock law, which permits the Government to close for one year any places where it can be proved liquor has been sold.

Crusade to Be Lengthy
B. C. Yellower, Chief of the Government's prohibition agents, directing the cleanup, said scores of other injunction cases were to be started in the Detroit River district and that the crusade was to be continued indefinitely.

Einstein and Smith, it became known to-day, still are working in the Detroit region.

Crabbe Asks Government To Release Parlor Pirate

COLUMBUS, OHIO, June 15.—Attorney-General Crabbe in a letter to Governor Donahue to-day urged that the Chief Executive reconsider the decision announced from his office to refuse the requisition from the state of Pennsylvania for C. A. Krehmer, Cleveland stock salesman, providing he returned stocks and commissions he is alleged to have obtained from an aged woman in Erie.

After a hearing on the requisition, it was announced at the Executive's office that Krehmer's case had been retained and that it would be dropped if the stocks and commissions, said to amount to $1,000, were returned.

The Attorney-General, in a letter to Mr. Donahue, said he had learned from the prosecutor at Erie that Krehmer, under indictment there, was "another of the so-called parlor-pirates." He had defrauded "scores of persons in Pennsylvania," Crabbe said, and under the indictment against him was subject to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

"If the state of Ohio is to throw her arm of protection around men of his character, it will tend to make him state the rendezvous of a most dangerous element," the Attorney-General continued. "This is the third case that has come to my attention where these fake stock salesmen have been apprehended and in which unusual methods have been used to prevent prosecution. According to the records the Pennsylvania woman was defrauded out of $1,100. The people of Ohio can well afford to refund to the Pennsylvania woman this amount rather than to permit the defrauder to become a citizen of Ohio and ply his trade in this state."

Members Of Alleged Counterfeiters' Ring Held In Big Bonds

CLEVELAND, OHIO, June 15.—Alex Treshchik, said by Federal officers to be the leader of an international ring of counterfeiters, pleaded guilty to two charges of counterfeiting before United States Commissioner E. J. Hoppa late today, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the Federal Grand Jury under $50,000 bail.

Two other members of the gang are said to have been arrested at Pittsburg and other arrests are expected. Warrants against Treshchik charge him with counterfeiting $10 notes issued by the First National Bank of Pittsburg and $5, $10 and $50 Federal Reserve Bank notes. He was arrested as he was preparing to go to New York. After six hours' questioning he is alleged to have described the operations of the gang.

Apparatus with which Treshchik is alleged to have photographed the notes, and counterfeit notes, were seized.

Freed In One Death; Is Held For Another

CLEVELAND, OHIO, June 15.—Peter Sokach was acquitted by a Common Pleas jury today on a charge of the first degree murder of Anna Radich, but was held in jail tonight pending an examination of the autopsy report on the death of her husband, the Radichs.

The defense pleaded that Sokach was crazed by drink given him in the Radich home at the time Radich and his wife were shot. The shooting is alleged to have followed a quarrel between a Sokach and Mrs. Radich over the signing of a waiver on a mortgage held against his property.

Now We Know Why People Have Burning Feet

All in the Joints says Maine Doctor

"What fools we mortals be." All these years we have been trying to help thousands of footsore people by lathering and powdering the skin when all the time the real trouble is in the bones, ligaments and cartilage—

Or to be short, in the joints. There are 26 bones in the foot covered with cartilage and connected with ligaments and they have a tremendous amount of work to do. The slightest strain on one little ligament from being "on the feet" too much inflames the whole foot, causing soreness and burning, itching and general misery.

"All this can be quickly proved." Says a prominent Maine doctor whose name is known the world over. Just try a remedy that is compounded for joint troubles only—such as Joint-Ease, which every druggist carries, and see how quickly your sore, tired, inflamed and tortured feet will get well and strong and sturdy again.

Forget your powdering and soaking and other makeshifts for just a few days and get rid of all foot misery by using Joint-Ease.

It's a stainless preparation that you rub on with your fingers for about a minute and it seeps right in through skin and flesh away down to the joints—the real seat of all troubles.

And remember when Joint-Ease goes in all foot agony gets out—A tube for 60 cents—Fisher & Streich Pharmacy—Advertisement.

Alleged Murderer Of Wife In Athens Eludes All Posses

ATHENS, OHIO, June 15.—Practically all members of the posse that watched and searched the hills around here for more than 18 hours for Jay Witham, alleged wife murderer, returned here tonight, after an unsuccessful manhunt. Witham is alleged to have murdered his young wife.

The posse, composed of officers from all over the county and 25 National Guardsmen, burned that Witham had spent last night asleep at his father's home, after the Coroner had removed the body of his wife from the scene of the murder. Early to-day Witham armed himself, secured food and returned to the hills, where he eluded officers for months, 10 years ago, when he was wanted for many alleged minor crimes.

Deny Sensational Charges Made Against Dry Officers

(Washington Bureau Portsmouth Times)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15.—(Special to Times).—Sensational charges against prohibition enforcement officers in Ohio made by Capt. W. H. Stayton of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, and reciting alleged occurrences in Perry and Summit counties, met with denial today from Ohioans at the capital who are numbered with the state's "dry" advocates.

Stayton declared that Ohio courts were under the domination of the Anti Saloon League, and that penalties for the infraction of existing prohibition laws were "wholly out of proportion to those imposed for other offenses."

He quoted from a letter written by Dwight Cusick, an attorney at New Lexington, Perry county, which charged that "a reign of terror" had been inaugurated there under the search and seizure provisions.

"We have been forced to submit to searches conducted by officers who are known criminals and characterless," Cusick asserted, "and yet their authority for search has been granted by the enforcement power of the state."

"Homes have been searched after the midnight hour without reason given in the affidavit used for the time of searching, and owners of the homes beaten into submission at the least protest. Men have been shot and shot at if they made the least move against the wishes of the officers."

Cusick related alleged "liquor plants" made against individuals and declared that fines as high as $1000 had been assessed against those whom he described as victims of such "plants."

He referred to the fact that the Perry county grand jury had indicted three mayors in the county and several prohibition officers in connection with his charges.

Stayton cited Silver Lake in Summit county, because he said the report of the state examiner on the administration of justice there "showed its activities practically limited to prosecution of liquor law violators, while other forms of law breaking were practically ignored."

"In this Ohio town," Captain Stayton said, the examiner's report showed ed that illegal fees amounting to over $12,000 were paid deputy marshals, who hauled alleged violators of the prohibition laws to court in their own machines, and assessed transportation charges varying from $5.00 to $20.00 in each case. Against the mayor himself the report brings a finding of $1,500.48, representing undistributed collections made but not available. The report further affirms that the mayor deposited court funds in his own personal account in a local bank, drawing checks therefrom for his own personal use.

Stayton criticized the "drastic provisions" of the Bender law and the "padlock" law passed by the state legislature. He made a comparison between "darkest Ohio" and "Communist Russia" as a parting shot at his lengthy statement.

Capt. Stayton showed by his every statement that he has no respect for law and order," said Warren E. Wheeler, of Ohio, general counsel for the Anti Saloon League, on reading the Stayton charges. "He would apparently arrogate the power of the state legislature to make laws which conflict with his ideas."

Both Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes and Assistant Commissioner James E. Jones, who are Ohioans, denied the excesses against prohibition enforcement officers by Stayton, describing them as "distortion of facts."

America Faces Danger From Malcontents

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 15.—America faces danger today from malcontents within and from the possibility of forming an entangling alliance which might draw her into a war at the command of a foreign power over the United States, Congressman Nicholas Longworth told over 12,000 persons present last night at Flag Day anniversary exercises conducted in Eden park amphitheater by the Cincinnati Lodge of Elks.

For the danger caused by forces trying to "hore in" on our governmental structure from within, Congressman Longworth recommended more critical attention to immigration. For the danger of entangling alliances he advised a careful survey before forming new connections. He was opposed, however, to a policy of isolation, he said.

Harding Proposes Code
WASHINGTON, June 14.—A code for civilian usage of the American flag and for proper behavior in its presence was advocated by President Harding today in addressing the American Legion's flag conference, which had in attendance delegates representing a number of organizations. The President also expressed hope that the various organizations represented would "insist upon some provision" to have every American learn to sing the "Star-Spangled Banner," declaring that he "would like to have the spirit of America show itself in song."

A committee to formulate a code was appointed with instructions to report to-morrow, when it is expected, definite rules will be adopted for usage of the flag to supplant the varied codes being advocated by patriotic and other organizations. Davis and Gompers Speak

The problem of the conference, Davis asserted, was one of education, after determination of simple rules for guidance of the civilian population in the display of the flag and the demonstration of the courtesy to it.

Mr. Gompers assured the delegates of the sympathy with their efforts of the American Federation of Labor.

Up To Business Men

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 15.—It is up to the business men of America to lead the way to an organization of the nations that will outlaw war. Mayor General Tasker H. Bliss declared in an address here today at the commencement exercises of Western Reserve University. Honorary degrees of doctor of laws were conferred upon General Bliss and Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War and Trustee of the University. "If business men can devise no way by which co-operation in domestic business can be extended to international business, it may be no long time before we ourselves fight for the possession of an oil field and pay more blood for it than we get in oil," General Bliss said.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly: I am sixteen years old and married. My husband is just to me but we live in the same house with his cousin, who is always trying to get my husband to be mean to me. We have been getting along very well in spite of his cousin. I would move, Dolly, but I am afraid people would call me a coward. What would you do? Do you think my husband loves me?

LITTLE WORRIED WIFE.
Your husband no doubt loves you or he would never have married you. Do not be afraid of what people will say and if you think it would be better for your happiness to move, then by all means do so.

Dear Dolly: What kind of a tree would grow fast? Is it too late to plant nasturtiums? Will they grow from year to year, or do you have to set them out every year.

FLOWER GIRL.
The nasturtium is the fastest growing tree. Nasturtiums are not perennial plants and therefore must be planted every year. It is too late to plant them this year.

Dear Dolly—We are two girls sixteen years of age and have completed the eighth grade and need work. We would like to do store work or something of that sort.

SCHOOL GIRLS.
These girls can be reached by telephone and I would be glad to give anyone their number who could hire them for the summer.

Miss Dolly Wise—Would you please tell me how to keep a smoked ham from molding?

A READER.
Smoked hams will mold in spite of anything you might do when they get a little old. However, this mold does not hurt them and they can be used if you will take a brush and a little warm water and scrub the mold off of them.

Several letters have been sent into this department by young girls who would like to work during the summer vacation taking care of children. Anyone desiring help of this kind may send their name and address to this department.

SOCIAL NEWS

Beautiful in every respect was the wedding at Bigelow M. E. Church Thursday evening, at half after seven o'clock, when Miss Miriam Neudorfer became the bride of Mr. Frank S. Ferguson, with Rev. C. E. Chandler, pastor of the church, officiating.

The church was banked with ferns and palms, and baskets of summer flowers were placed artistically. Miss Doris Moore, organist at Bigelow, gave a program of spiritual airs, including "The Melody of Love," "June," "The Swan" and "Request," and Mrs. Phillips Brooks, a charming young matron, sang, "Because" and "At Dawning," before the Lutheran procession, which ushered in the wedding party.

Miss Margaret Neudorfer, the attractive maid of honor, was lovely in rose georgette and silver, complete with a bouquet of orchids; the bridesmaids were Misses Hazel Schimmel, of Newark; Karleene Johnson, Jane Chandler and Helen Keyes. Miss Schimmel's frock was of green georgette and silver and her flowers were pink roses; Miss Johnson wore a blue georgette and lace and carried red roses; Miss Chandler's costume was of peach georgette, and her flowers were pink roses and Miss Keyes wore orchid georgette and silver and she carried pink roses.

The brides were joined at the altar by Frank Graham of Newark, Sherard Johnson, Charles Cloran, of Ironton; and Bryant Hoffman. The little flower girls, Phyllis Richardson and Betty Davis, in their dainty petal frocks of yellow organdie over satin, carried baskets of rose petals which they scattered in the path of the bride, who entered with her father, Mr. L. F. Neudorfer. They were joined at the altar by Mr. Ferguson and his best man, his brother in law, Mr. J. E. Davis.

The bride, a young woman of charming personality, was lovely in her wedding frock of white georgette and lace with satin trimmings, fashioned on simple lines, her fillet veil, caught in cap shape and falling to the hem of her gown. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Misses Elizabeth Duduit and Helen Scott were the ribbon attendants and the ushers included Messrs. Robert Richardson, Russell McCurdy, Edward Carlisle and Howard Davis.

Miss Duduit wore orchid georgette and Miss Scott wore pink georgette. Their flowers were pink roses and sweet peas, fashioned in corsage bouquets.

At the close of the service, the recessional from Mendelssohn was played as the party and guests left the church.

Later, the members of the wedding party, the relatives and immediate friends were received in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Neudorfer on Franklin Boulevard, where Mr. and Mrs. Neudorfer and Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Ferguson extended cordial greetings. Assisting in the hospitality of the evening were Mrs. Charles Spencer, Mrs. Marvin Clark, Mrs. A. C. Everett, Mrs. T. M. Patterson and Miss Joanne Silcox. The guests were served with refreshing fruit punch during the evening and were ushered to the dining room for a dainty pink and white ice course.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NUMBER TOWN

"How do you do, may we button your shoe?"

W HAT place is this?" asked Nick as the Choo-Choo Express began to slow up for another station in Choo-Choo Land.

"It's called Number Town," said Mister Lunch, the conductor man. "This is where the numbers live."

So the Twins hurried to get off the little train and see the sights of this queer village.

"How do you do, may we button your shoe?" asked two polite voices. Nancy and Nick were astonished to see a large number one and number two with shoe-buttoners standing near.

"Oh, no, thank you," said Nancy graciously. "We have on magic shoes or we shouldn't be here at all."

"Well, we just thought we'd ask," said the number one. "That's our business. No doubt you've heard of us. We're called One, Two, Button-My-Shoe. We're in a Mother Goose rhyme."

"Will you please step this way?" asked another voice. "Right through this doorway, so we may shut the door after you?"

And a large, fat number three hopped as low as his fat tummy would let him.

"You see we are Three-Four, the Shut-the-Door Twins," said Mister Four, his partner. "We can't head over like Five and Six who Pick-Up."

"Star right where you are," whispered Cucumber, "and I will save you. The bad giant thinks very slowly and while he's thinking of what to do with you, you can get away." And as he said this, a large pelican with a big beak flew from where Cucumber was, over to Jack's side. (Continued.)

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES—THE BAD GIANT

Jack was now swaying back and forth in the air. He was afraid every minute that he would drop to the ground. "But must have been the bad giant," said Jack to himself. "Oh, I wish that Trixie or her pet leopard were here." Then Jack looked down and saw the bad giant's face just below.

And at the same time the bad giant saw Jack. "Ha, ha, ha, ho!" laughed the bad giant. "I've caught you this time. I don't like little boys, and you'll soon be sorry you came to Giant Land." Of course Jack was very frightened. Then suddenly Cucumber peeked around from behind a tree nearby.

"Star right where you are," whispered Cucumber, "and I will save you. The bad giant thinks very slowly and while he's thinking of what to do with you, you can get away." And as he said this, a large pelican with a big beak flew from where Cucumber was, over to Jack's side. (Continued.)

FLOWING GOLD

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray employs three men to watch the oil field operations of Colonel Henry Nelson of Dallas, whom Gray hates. Gray loves Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker. Gus Briskow strikes oil and Gray helps the family to adapt themselves to a better way of living. Allie, the daughter, adores Gray and to Bud, the son, he is a hero. Gray brings Bud from the oil fields for a visit to Dawson. Henry Nelson tells Tom Parker that Gray has been dishonorably discharged from the army. Because Gray loves Barbara her father goes to consult with his friend Judge Holloran.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

When they had gone, Gray rose with relief and surprised Buddy by saying: "That's enough for now, thank goodness! Business is only one side of life, my boy. You are going to make this city your home, so you must begin by meeting the right people, the influential people. Nicest people in the world right here, Buddy; nicest place in the world, too!"

Now to a youth who, for months, had been immersed in the oil fields, Wichita Falls did indeed resemble a city of marvelous portents. Pavements, large buildings, bright lights, theaters—Buddy was thrilled. He prepared himself for introduction to oil operators, to men of finance sitting in marble and mahogany offices; he made ready to step forth into the big world.

Great was his astonishment, therefore, when after a swift walk Gray turned into a tiny frame insurance office on a side street. Funny place to look for people of influence, Buddy cogitated.

A girl was seated at a desk; she rose at sight of Gray, and her face broke into a smile. Her greeting was warm; her hand lingered in his; for the moment neither of them seemed to remember Buddy's presence. When she did hear his name, however, her face lightened and she gave her hand to him as to an old friend. When she smiled at him, as she had smiled at his companion, Buddy dropped his hat. He had never seen anyone in the least like this creature—and she knew Allie! She knew his mother! He had missed her name, but probably she owned that Dallas department store, or was the mayor of Wichita Falls. He had never before been so embarrassed.

"Mr. Gray certainly was a wonderful man. His poise, his air of respectfulness but easy familiarity with this—this angel raised him immensely in Buddy's esteem. Think of joking, chatting, making pretty speeches to an—angel! That was going some. The gall of it!"

After a while, when the two men were on the street again, Buddy inquired: "Who is that young lady? I mean—her name?"

Gray told him, then with a friendly twinkle: "Well, speak out! What do you think of her?"

"Oh—Gee!" Buddy cried, breathlessly, whereupon his companion laughed in perfect satisfaction.

CHAPTER XXVIII
A Bank Changes Hands

TWO callers were awaiting Gray when, late that afternoon, he mounted the stairs to his office—Tom Parker and Judge Holloran—and something in their formal, awkward greeting sent a quick chill of alarm through him.

The two old men were talking, one lamely supplementing the other's efforts to lead up to the object of their visit. Gray turned a set face to Tom Parker finally, and interrupted by saying:

"Permit me to ease your embarrassment, sir. You object to my attentions to your daughter. Is that it?" Tom dropped his eyes and mumbled an uncomfortable affirmative.

"Not, I hope, because you question the nature of my intentions?"

"Oh no!"

"I'd say yes and no to that," Hal loran declared, argumentatively. "Tom and I are gentlemen of the old school; we live by the sword and 'Bob' is our joint property, in a way. Any man who aspires to the honor of—well, of even paying attentions to that girl must stand the acid test."

Clayville, Ga.—In a statement which she gave at her home on R. F. D. 1, here, Mrs. T. A. Copeland said:

"I have, I believe, avoided a good deal of suffering by the use of Cardui, and am thoroughly convinced that it has been of great benefit to me."

"Before the birth of two of my children, I grew so weak and nervous I could hardly go and suffered. . . . I had a friend who told me of Cardui, so the next time when I grew so weak and run-down I began to use it. I used it three months. I grew stronger and less nervous. The baby was stronger and a better baby, and I really believe it was because I built up my strength with this splendid tonic."

Cardui has been in successful use for more than forty years. Thousands of women have written to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

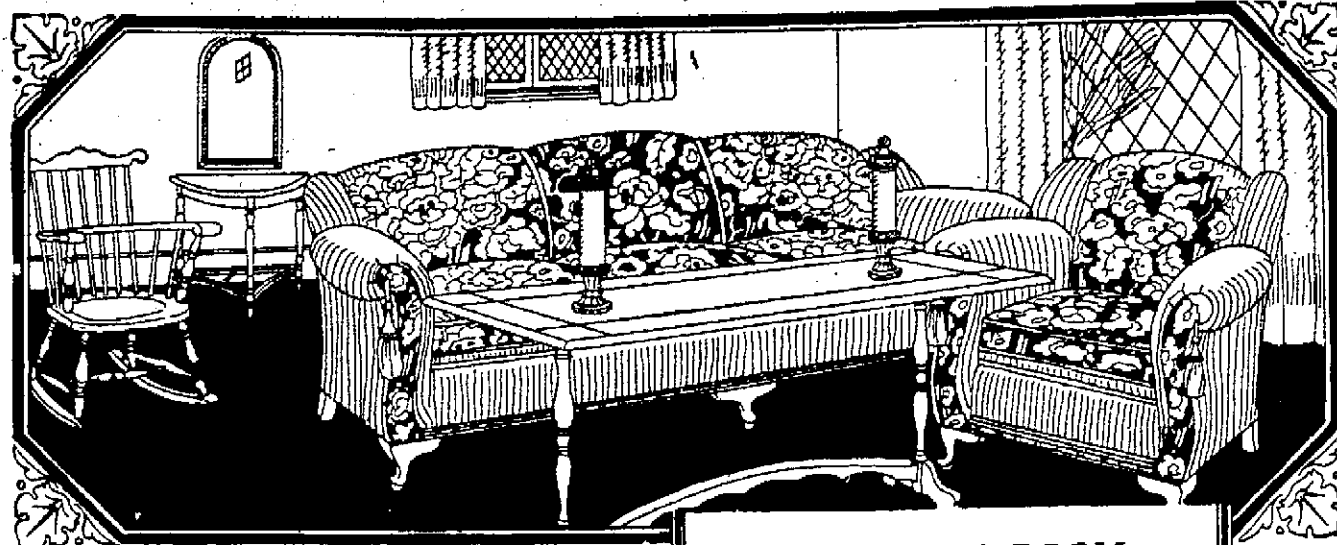

It is a mild, harmless, purely vegetable medicinal preparation—a product of practical experience, scientific investigation and pharmaceutical skill.

HERE'S CHANCE TO BE BANDSMAN IN UNCLE SAM'S ARMY AT PANAMA

Here is the chance for some aspiring young musician to get a chance at membership in one of Uncle Sam's regular bands and a free trip to Panama. Recruiting Sergeant M. Becker stated yesterday afternoon that he had just received word from division headquarters that enlistments are now open for young men in the band service for assignment in the Panama Canal Zone.

Any applicant desiring to receive training for band service will be sent to a band training school where he will be given a course in musical instruction. After completing the course he will be transferred to Panama. Sergeant Becker says that he does not know why there is a demand for army musicians at Panama at the present time but is of the opinion that a large band training school is to be established there soon. Assignments are also open at the life coast service, 8th corps area at Texas, and for guard duty at Fort Leavenworth.

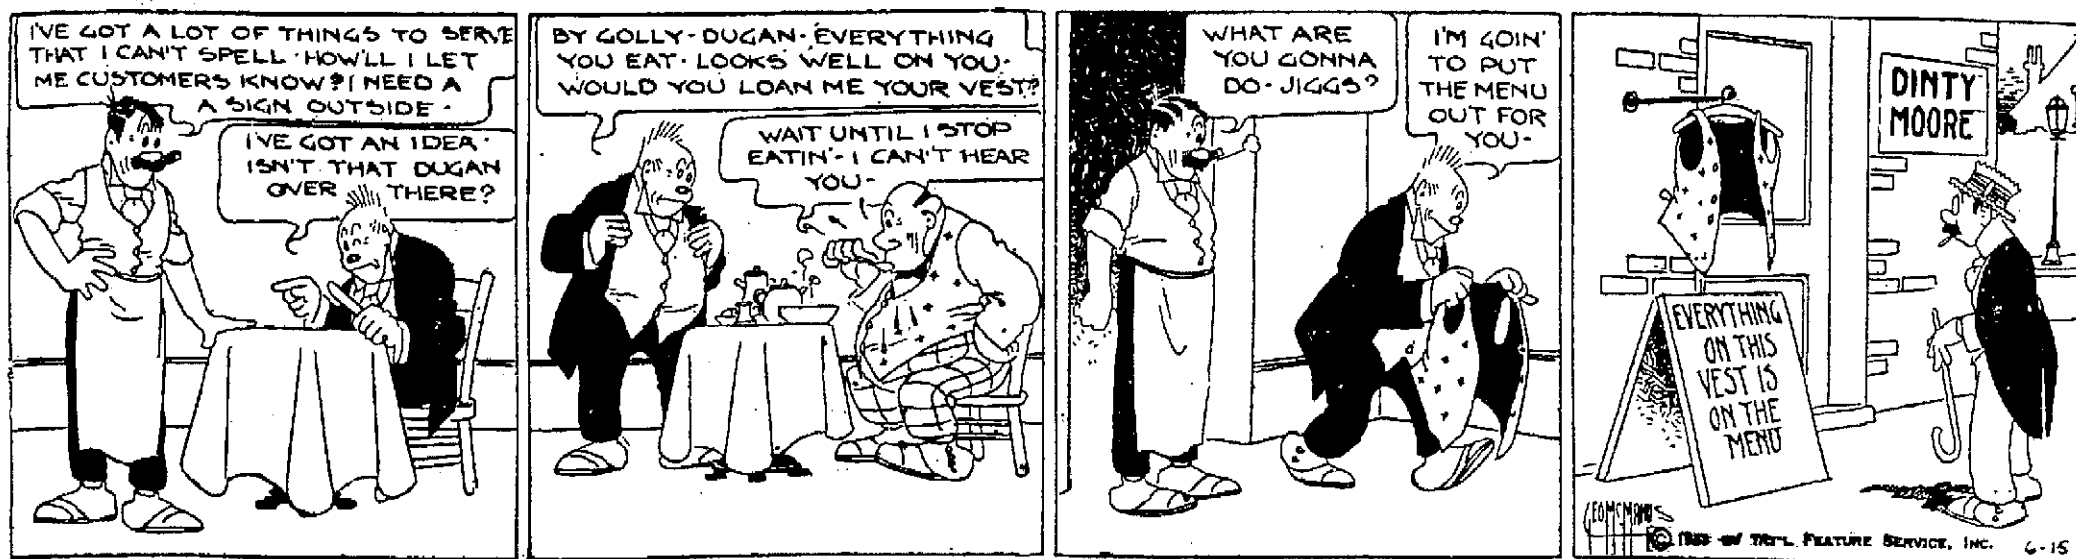

Murphy and Gage agreed. Bell's peculiar display of emotion surprised them; they exchanged glances. "I thought there wasn't any stock out of the idea's owned by our group. What's the idea?" Gray answered easily. "There is now a considerable amount outside of that. A very considerable amount." Murphy made himself and Gage for the first time, and shared angrily. "Quite thoughtfully, Gray, this is a very good move. How much have you got? What's your own object?" In spite of himself his voice shook. "My object is purely selfish." Gray's tone was equally unpleasant. He had expected to create a sensation, and he was not disappointed. "Mr. Briskow and his son are looking for a secure investment, and I have convinced them of the soundness of your institution. My operations make it necessary for me to establish a close banking affiliation some where I can ask for and receive consideration." His new way was now unmistakable. "So where should I turn, except to my friends? I assume you make no objection to the stock transfer? Very well," he drew from his pocket a bundle of shares and tossed them across the table to Senator Lowe. (Continued in Our Next Issue)

Gives Ruling On School Board Nominations

As many inquiries have been made of John F. Johnley, clerk of the Board of Elections as to whether members of the Boards of Education in Portsmouth and New Boston should be nominated at the August primary, he issued the following statement today:

Such nominations should not be made at the primary election for, by the provisions of Section 4951-1 of the General Code, as found in House Bill No. 40, passed by the General Assembly in April and which will be effective July 19th, the primary election law shall not extend not be applicable to the nomination of candidates for boards of education. This is substantiated by the following statement from a recent opinion of Attorney General C. C. Crabbie:

"It is therefore the belief of this department that members of the Board of Education to be voted for at the next general election (meaning the November election) are to be nominated by petition and not at the primary election under the provisions of Section 4951-1 G. C."

Should File For Assessor

Concerning the position of Assessor, concerning which there have been many inquiries made to the Board of Elections, Clerk Johnley said, yesterday, "Since it is now apparent that both the Taft bill and the Albaugh bill will be subjected to referendum, nominations for the office of Assessor in the wards of Portsmouth and New Boston may be made at the primary election."

Petitions Must Be Filed Before Midnight

The time limit for candidates who desire to participate in the August primaries to file declarations expires at the stroke of twelve bells tonight and for the convenience of those who may wish to join the entry list and complete for the nomination for any office in the municipalities of Portsmouth or New Boston, Chief Clerk John F. Johnley, of the Board of Elections, will keep his office on the eighth floor of the First National Bank building open until the midnight hour.

W. A. Jordan and family left for Hammond, Ind., where Mr. Jordan was to assume the management of the Nonan House, a popular hotel in that city.

The Mary Dillon resort on Twelfth street, was raided by the police and the inmates of the place were compelled to walk to the police station on account of the patrol being busy at a fire.

The hum of bullets was heard at a church lawn fete at Beattyville, Ky., which resulted in one man being shot in the leg and others had narrow escapes. Knives, clubs and stones also played an important part in the row.

A number of Portsmouth visitors including Will Zottmann, Sid Cockrell, Ed Correll, Walter Patterson and John Kelly, visited Henry Springs and while there regaled themselves on mince pie and sweet milk. The combination did not agree, and after they came home all were taken violently ill.

Matt Thompson entertained with a bowling and billiard party at Grandview Park, complimentary to Miss Maud Moore's guests, Misses Beulah Pugh and Claudia Jones, of Vanceburg.

William Bush, track walker, was hurried through the air when a freight train struck the railway railyard he was riding on the C. & O. tracks near South Portsmouth.

Claims State Officials

Protected Colony Vices

LANSING, MICH., June 15.—Charges that public officials had adopted a "hands-off" policy in regard to the House of David colony at Benton-Harbor, and that the Berrien County Sheriff had failed to serve papers on Benjamin Purnell when he knew him to be in Shilo, were made in an affidavit filed in Supreme Court here today. The affidavit was submitted by Walter M. Nelson, Detroit attorney, recently held in contempt of Court for refusal to answer questions during the grand jury investigation of the colony.

Nelson asks the State Supreme Court to issue a writ of certiorari to review and set aside the proceedings under which he was sentenced to jail for 30 days for contempt of Court. In the application the attorney asserts that he believes "the colony controls public officers who protect the leaders of the colony in the practice of unlawful sexual vices, including the abuse of a large number of young girls in the name of religion."

officers to investigate the colony failed because of wrong methods and because the riot victims of Purnell, reared in an atmosphere of low morals, depravity and intrigue, place no confidence in public officials, ascribing their activities to politics and use of money."

Who Said Women Can't Drive Nails? They Did At K. Of P. Outing Which Was Big Success

Can women drive nails? If there is any doubt in your mind as to their ability along this line you should have attended the outing at Light House Beach yesterday given by the Knights of Pythias. There were six entries in a women's nail driving contest and the unanimous opinion was that all wielded "wicked hammers." Mrs. Joe Hladik, however, proved the most skillful and received a box of candy for driving twelve large nails in a block of wood before any of the other contestants had finished. She swung her hammer with energy and precision and the nails sank into the wood just as if a trip hammer were at work. This was one of many enjoyable features of the outing which proved to be such a splendid success that the K. of P. lodges are planning to make such an event an annual affair. The outing was attended by K. of P. members and their families throughout the county.

E. A. Steadman, of Sciotoville and Wells Elliott of this city, were in charge of the entertainment committees and they provided plenty of fun for every one. They carried out a regular program and there was something doing all the time.

In the morning all the kiddies had a chance to race. French harps were given to the boys as prizes and vanity cases to the girls. The first event was a sack race, was won by Wm. Hicks and Richard Hoskins. The second race, for all girls under ten years, was won by Martha Guler. The third race, for boys under ten, was won by Ray Magruder.

Squire Geo. S. Morgan, the genial New Boston magistrate was made the "goat" of a "fake" fat men's race. He was asked to step of a number of yards for the big race and in doing so stopped a number of cars in order that the race might not be interrupted. The contestants meantime walked off and left the Squire to judge for himself.

After lunch and refreshments Grand Chancellor Ford Hunker, of Middletown, head of all Pythian lodges in Ohio, gave a talk on the work of the organization. Mr. Hunker was the main speaker of the day and his talk was very interesting.

Another race was held after the Grand Chancellor's address and Joe Hladik was declared winner of a seven-out-five yard dash with Bobt. Bald, rich as the other runner. Mr. Hladik was given a pocketbook as a prize. Journey's orchestra entertained all who wished to dance with others had the privilege of going in swimming or of watching a baseball game between members of the lodge. It was a delightful outing and another of its kind will be looked forward to by all who were present.

Niles Mayor Is Warned

COLUMBUS, O., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Persons who filed petitions and affidavits alleging laxity in the enforcement of liquor and other laws in the city of Niles and sought the removal of Mayor Charles Crow by Governor Donaher, should have filed them with the mayor and co-operated with him in enforcing the laws, the chief executive declared in a letter sent to Crow today. Crow, however, admonished that he must also make efforts to curb vice conditions.

The mayor was called before the governor yesterday to answer the charge which had been made by Niles citizens but no statement on what transpired was made from the executive offices until today.

The governor's letter also contained a warning that the mayor should do his part in enforcing the law.

COLUMBUS, O., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Finding of $8,000 against Newark property holders for the Dow Liquor Tax due on their holdings were announced at the state bureau of accounting today. George and that equal amounts were due from Bolton and Vadtin, Max and Matilda Dix, John Vogel and August and John Cissla.

Suffocated In Ditch

CINCINNATI, O., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—James Givens, 50, of Covington, Ky., was suffocated some time yesterday when a ditch he was digging caved in. Givens was working alone and it was not until his wife reported his failure to return to his home last night that a search for him was begun. A projecting foot from the soft earth revealed the tragedy.

Lawrence Co. Men Face Assault Charges; Raid Picnic Party

The Ironton Register of local interest Thursday said: Edgar Moore, Asa Sites, Charles Haynes and Oliver Dickens were arrested last night and brought into Scioto Jails' court on a charge of assault and battery, and numerous other charges. The complaints against the defendants, all of whom reside near Forest Dale, this county, were entered by Howard Moreland, prominent young employee of the Ironton postoffice, and Ivan Cline of Wheelersburg, Ohio.

The plaintiff Moreland charged that while he and a party of friends were motoring through the country last Sunday, the defendants, in an automobile, pursued them, using obscene language and making threats. Moore was the driver of the car and Moreland secured the license number. He was greatly incensed over the affair and as soon as he learned the identity of the driver had a warrant issued for him. Moore broke down and gave the names of his companions.

The other charge, entered against the four young men was made by the Wheelersburg man, who claims that while he and members of his family were picnicking near Kitts Hill, the young men raided their party, badly beating members of the Cline family, cutting a deep gash in the head of one of the children. Cline is a cripple and was unable to offer any considerable resistance but his young brother fought the entire gang, he declared, and was badly beaten up. Cline secured the name of the driver of the car through the auditor of state.

Chiropractors Reply To Resolutions Passed By Members Of Hempstead Academy

Another chapter in the war between the Chiropractors and local physicians has been written, in a statement forwarded to Governor Donahy by the Chiropractors, in answer to the resolutions passed by the members of Hempstead Academy. The statement is as follows:

Scioto County Jail, Portsmouth, Ohio, June 12th, 1923.

We, the incarcerated Chiropractors, after having observed the Resolution which it is claimed was unanimously adopted by the members of the Hempstead Academy and signed by three under the assumption of a Committee having been appointed, feel as though we should respond to this mis-statement sent to the Governor, and we fear that he may class it with Mr. Don K. Martin's second letter and ignore it. We do not wish to have you or this Committee or any of the supporters of this Resolution to be disappointed by not receiving a response. So for this reason we are answering.

Your Resolution is one of the most absurd of absurdities. We cannot understand how you, as a Branch and a Committee of the organization above referred to in this article, could in the eyes of the public condemn Governor Donahy and Attorney General Crabbe effectively for their action in permitting the little Carr girl to receive treatments in the County Jail, when the child had prior to taking chiropractic been unable to receive relief, and since has improved very rapidly.

You state in your Resolution: "The first law providing State registration of physicians became effective in 1894 and all then in active practice complied with its provisions." Then you proceed to state the requirements of a present day medical student as a shield to make the public believe you all have had from seven to ten years training in one of our scientific universities. Why do you not state in your Resolution who of your members were admitted by merely being in active practice in 1894? You are holding us out as incompetents due to our short training course. So play fair and give the public data of yourselves as competent.

As regard to your strong points in condemning us through diagnosis which you try to impress on the Governor in your Resolution, also which Don K. Martin emphasized in his letter to the Governor, we wish to state this was utterly as well as truthfully answered by Governor Donahy. To prove this we quote from statement of a member of your own National rank, Richard Cabot, M. D., who is an exceedingly able exponent of medical science and practice, as recognized by the medical profession generally. He holds a chair of medicine in Harvard University, and is a recognized author of a standard text book on physical diagnosis, and writes:

"Out of one thousand cases treated in General Hospital, Boston, Mass., 47 per cent of the treatment was absolutely wrong due to mistake in diagnosis, and a large percent of the remaining 53 per cent were partially mistaking diagnosis."

So where does this theory of your accurate diagnosis come from? Your diagnostic mistakes have a far greater chance to prove fatal than have ours. As to our knowledge we have no names on our casualty list. Can you show a clearance?

We also observe in your Resolution that this child in being taken to jail for treatment, passed the door of a licensed Chiropractor. Why do you not also state the number of licensed medical doctor's doors they passed? This possibly would be of more interest to the Governor and the public as well. Permit us to quote a statement made by the Secretary of the State Medical Board, Dr. Platter:

"There has to date been 148 licensed in Ohio, 184 chiropractors, 152 were licensed by the special examination under the Platt-Elkins law. Four have taken the examination since 1915, two passed. There are today 148 licensed chiropractors practicing in Ohio."

Has it ever entered your mind the why of this? In this Resolution you notice they praise the wisdom of the Legislature in placing this examination under their control. We will proceed to give you our reason which in our mind make us believe they will be unfair with their examination. In the October issue of the Ohio

State Medical Journal 1917, they not only made statement but were bold enough to publish that we were a bunch of human skunks, both male and female. To show you their attitude has not changed, we refer you again to their journal, June issue, 1923, just off the press, page 436. Resolution B introduced by Dr. Stedem of Newark, attested by Don K. Martin, Executive Secretary of Ohio, State Medical Association, in part, as follows:

"Whereas Chiropractic is a method of treating the sick and injured that is based on no known facts but merely upon a fanciful dogma, easily demonstrated to be false, and fostering an explanation of chiropractic, is a menace to public welfare."

Also stated in same Resolution that they are back of any move to eliminate chiropractic. These statements are taken from your own publication, adopted by your own organization, which organization recommends Board of Examiners to examine us. Then you attempt by your wily means to convince the people that we are unfair and unreasonable because we will not submit to be examined by your Board.

As to the merits of our work let the people judge. You may have obtained a good inference along this line by having observed the attitude of your fellow townsmen since our incarceration in the county jail. We wish to leave it with you to consider as regards our receiving a fair and impartial examination from your Board after having publicly and boldly taken the stand you have.

We, the Chiropractors of Portsmouth, adopt this as a Resolution in answer to Resolution drawn by members of the Hempstead Academy addressed to the Governor and attacking us.

Sincerely yours,
F. D. PARKS, D. C.

VIOLATES PLUMBING LAW; FINED

Earl Hannah was recently found guilty of violating the state plumbing laws and was fined $10 in Squire Morgan's court in New Boston. The charge was preferred by State Plumbing Inspector J. C. Reay of Columbus. Testimony at the hearing showed that Hannah had done some plumbing in Zack Hale's grocery on Ohio avenue, New Boston, which the State claimed was in violation of the statutes governing plumbing work. Squire Morgan announced after the hearing that persons appearing in his court, who had violated the plumbing laws should expect to pay a fine.

At a recent meeting awarded the contracts for resurfacing of three of our main streets and the work will be started very shortly and this is as it should be—in fact, it should have been done two years ago. The advertisement to a city of good street—especially the entrance and exit, is worth thousands of dollars, for a tourist will always remember bad roads and streets and cuss that town forever, but now that we are to have ours fixed up and by a home concern that will do it right we can smile and be happy and proud, just as you are when you get into a pair of Palm Beach Oxfords, $3.50 up.

To Pay U. S. 90 Million

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—An agreement to pay into the treasury $90,000,000, has been made by the Pennsylvania Railroad system as the result of final settlement between the road and the government of all accounts rising out of the war-time federal control.

The Pennsylvania's payment will reimburse the government for the cost of a large number of additions and betterments made to its lines during the period of government control, which overbalance all of the road's claims against the treasury for damages, under maintenance and other items.

"The director general of railroads has effected a final settlement with the 24 companies comprising the Pennsylvania system for financial accounting arising during the 26 months of federal control," Director General Davis said in a statement. "After an adjustment of all accounts between the government and these roads there is a balance due the government from them, largely on account of capital expenditures, of $90,000,000. Under the law this amount will be funded by the government, the railroad giving properly secured paper for the ultimate payment of same."

"This completes the largest adjustment which has been or will be before the railroad administration. The tonnage carried by the Pennsylvania system represents about one-tenth of the total traffic handled by class one roads of this country and the equipment, freight cars, locomotives and passenger cars represent about the same proportion of the equipment of class one roads."

With the Pennsylvania claim out of the way, the railroad administration has now settled the accounts arising from federal control of companies which own 84 per cent of the country's rail mileage.

While most of the settlements have involved payments by the government to railroads, several companies have returned money or securities evidencing indebtedness to the treasury, the accounting having determined that the government spent more money on a given line than that line lost by reason of damages or failure to earn income up to the standard.

In the case of the Pennsylvania, which operates through the eastern munition manufacturing districts, the government spent large amounts in extending terminals, building new trucks and adding equipment. The Pennsylvania will deliver to the treasury in payment of the account cash or securities bearing six per cent interest covering the entire amount.

Why do Oakland Engines keep running so smoothly?

LISTEN to an Oakland 6-44 engine that has delivered twenty thousand miles of service! Its smooth and silent flow of power amazes you! What is the reason? Sturdy crankshaft and connecting rods of the finest metals! Costly patented bronze-backed bearings! Lightest of moving parts reducing vibration to the minimum! A pressure feed lubrication system constantly bathing moving parts in oil! Cylinders honed to the smoothness of glass! And above all—accuracy and precision in manufacture. Drive a year-old Oakland—and you'll understand why Oakland's "Mileage Basis" gauge is such a true representation of real quality.

Charges Neglect and Cruelty

Dorothy F. Gable charges neglect and cruelty in her suit for divorce and alimony instituted in Common Pleas court Friday against Arthur Gable, 1326 Grandview avenue, locomotive fireman, employed by the Norfolk & Western, whom she married on February 5 last.

In her bill of complaint filed through Attorney B. F. Kinsale the wife says that Gable has cursed and called her vile and indecent names, assaulted and beat her and declares that he neglected her and their home for the association of women of disreputable character. Besides, she declared, he abandoned her on April 20 last, and has not lived with her since.

claims to have sustained on April 26 last, when he alleges he was struck by a motor truck belonging to the defendant company.

In his petition filed through Attorney T. C. Beatty the plaintiff says that on April 26 he was an employee of the C. & O. Railway company on its ferry boat and complains that while in the performance of his duties and soon after the boat had made a landing on the Kentucky shore at South Portsmouth the truck ran into him seriously injuring his left arm, tearing the ligaments in such a way that he is permanently injured, he says. The plaintiff further declares that the injury which he sustained was due entirely to the careless and negligent manner in which the motor vehicle was operated.

Case Continued

Lewis E. Collins, 15 years old, son of Allan Collins, 525 Mill street, admitted guilt when brought into juvenile court Friday for entering the second hand store of R. F. Holley, 628 Ninth street, a few days ago and stealing a bicycle and a suit of clothes. The bike and clothes were later recovered but were found to have been damaged and Judge Gilliland continued the case for thirty days on condition that he pay a claim of $8 for the damage to the property.

Made Ward of Court

Julia Ellis, 15 years old, 913 Tenth street, was made a ward of the court by Judge Gilliland at the close of a hearing in juvenile court Friday when she appeared to answer to a delinquency complaint filed by Emma Hubert, welfare worker. The girl was accused of misconduct with a married man.

The divorce suit of Cordelia Atkins, Gay and Gallia streets, against Lewis Atkins, address unknown, was partially heard by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday and then continued until Saturday for further evidence. They were married in June, 1913, and the plaintiff charged willful absence. She told the court that at the time of her marriage Atkins represented that he was the owner of considerable property in Lawrence county, when as a matter of fact he only possessed a cheap house and lot, but she declared that she made the most of the situation and decided to stick to him. He would not have it that way, she claimed, and asserted that he abandoned her entirely in 1919. The wife was represented by Attorneys Theo. K. Funk and A. R. Campbell.

Hearing on the application made by the plaintiff for a temporary injunction in the case of James Wilson, New Boston, against Harry Castor, state prohibition inspector, which was scheduled to come up before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday morning, was continued and the defendant can be brought into court, officers of the court having failed so far in their efforts to locate Castor to serve him with legal process.

Wilson through his action institutted in Common Pleas court recently, is demanding $10,000 damages from Castor for alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, Claude Wilson, charging that the prohibition officer is conspiring to break up the home of the plaintiff by writing letters to Mrs. Wilson and by arranging in other ways to meet and associate with her. Wilson seeks a temporary order restraining the defendant from continuing the acts complained of until the case can be heard on its merits.

To Administer Estate

Mrs. Nora Moore has been appointed by the Probate court to administer the estate of her late mother, Harriet Seel, who died recently at her home in this city, leaving property with an estimated value of $3,000, represented entirely by personality.

Held For Preliminary Examination

Arraigned on five separate charges of violating the dry laws, Henry Redden, 26, and Fred Ferguson, 30, both of this city, pleaded not guilty Friday and they were held under $3500 bond each by U. S. Commissioner J. F. Johnson for preliminary examination on June 23. In default of bond the prisoners were committed to the Scioto county jail pending the hearing.

The two men were taken in a raid by prohibition agents on a houseboat moored in the Ohio river, near the Kentucky shore opposite the mouth of Turkey Creek, early Wednesday morning. The officers claim to have seized two stills and a quantity of moonshine liquor found on the boat, besides destroyed several barrels of mash in the process of fermentation.

Arguments Heard

Arguments were heard by Judge Thomas Friday in the injunction suit recently brought by the City of Portsmouth against Abraham Winkler to test out the provisions of the city building code.

Attorney Harry W. Miller and Solicitor Sheppard M. Johnson appeared for the city and Judge Blair represented Winkler and at the conclusion of the arguments Judge Thomas reserved his decision to give counsel on opportunity to file briefs in support of their contentions.

Arrested On Paternity Complaint

Arrested by a Jackson county deputy sheriff last night on a warrant issued from Squire George S. Morgan's court, Carl Freeman, 20 years old, Black Fork young man, was brought to this city from Oak Hill Friday to answer to the paternity complaint made against him by Anna Caldwell, unmarried young woman, living at Jackson Fork, Bloom township. The complainant alleges that Freeman is the father of her infant illegitimate child.

Harding Backs Gov. Preus

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Word that the national administration, through the Republican senatorial committee would take a hand in the July 16 election in Minnesota when the late Senator Knute Nelson's successor will be chosen, was received with interest in political circles in the state today.

Reports that Senator George H. Moses of the senatorial committee is taking a hand in the campaign prior to the June 18 primaries in the interest of Governor J. A. O. Preus, were denied by friends of the governor who is one of the nine candidates seeking the Republican nomination.

According to these reports, letters were sent by Senator Moses urging Minnesotans to rally to the support of Governor Preus. In this connection it was pointed out in some circles that the governor is a close personal friend of President Harding.

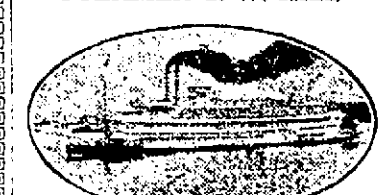

On the other hand, Washington advices indicated that active assistance from the senatorial committee and the administration would not begin until after the primary with full Republican support thrown to the candidate nominated. Governor Preus did not begin his active campaigning until yesterday. Oscar Hallam, former justice of the state supreme court is declared by many newspapers throughout the state to be the governor's chief contender for the Republican honors.

J. A. A. Burnquist, former governor; Ernest Lundeen, former congressman, and Victor L. Power, mayor of Hibbing, all Republicans, have been other hard working candidates.

Relaxation Of Liquor Regulations For Hospitals

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Relaxation of prohibition regulations affecting liquor supplies of hospitals and retail druggists are announced today by Federal Prohibition Commissioner Hayes.

State Directors are given new orders to expedite applications of hospitals and druggists to the full limit of their yearly and quarterly allowance and state directors are reminded that if hospitals and drug stores do not use their entire quota in one quarter they may draw the difference in a later period. The latter regulation is designed to increase supplies in winter seasons when they are regarded as more necessary in cases of sickness.

Boldman Caught In Cave In; Rescued

David Boldman was placed in a precarious position for a time Thursday afternoon when a ditch in which he was engaged in digging in the Timmonds Addition caved in and buried his legs so deeply in the earth that he was unable to extricate himself.

Boldman was finally rescued by fellow workmen and although he complained of pains about his legs as a result of the compression of mud, an examination disclosed no bones were broken and he suffered little from his experience.

Death Claims Daniel J. Ryan

COLUMBUS, O., June 15.—Daniel J. Ryan, attorney, writer and former secretary of state and state legislator, died at the home of a daughter here early today. Mr. Ryan, who had been ill for a year, was 68 years of age.

Mr. Ryan was known over Ohio as a practicing attorney and as a writer. Probably his best known endeavor in the latter line was a five volume history of Ohio, written in collaboration with the late E. J. Randall, supreme court reporter. Other publications of his included "Arbitration between Capital and Labor," an article "Ohio," in the Encyclopedia Americana, "Civil War Literature of Ohio," "Masters of Men," "Ohio in Four Wars," and "Historic Failures of Applied Socialism."

He was born in Cincinnati, educated in the Common Schools there and in the High School at Portsmouth, O. He was admitted to the bar in 1877 and subsequently served two terms as city solicitor of Portsmouth.

Mr. Ryan's state public life began when he served in the sixth-sixth and sixty-seventh general assemblies. He served as secretary of state of Ohio from 1883 to 1891, was the first president of the Ohio Republican League and served as temporary chairman of the first national convention of Republican Clubs in New York in 1887. In 1920 and 1921 he was a member of the Ohio State Tax Commission. Mr. Ryan is survived by his widow, two daughters, and four grand children.

Reason A-Plenty For Discriminating In Favor Of The Kline Store

They are: Sincere Service, Honest Policies, Excellent Values!

After all it's the integrity—the spirit beneath the surface of a store that counts.

People will trade constantly at the establishment they trust, and they'll induce others to do likewise.

That is how a store grows—it builds upon the confidence of its customers, the best foundation possible.

And it is our ambition always to merit the continued approval of our methods from the people. This we foresee, will result by maintaining the right balance between Price and Quality.

Our driving aim is to shape ourselves to the demands of our customers—to have as near if not exactly, the right kind of merchandise at prices that are entirely satisfactory.

SALESWOMEN who do more than merely sell. Our attaches are not Saleswomen merely in the sense, that their main thought is to sell you merchandise regardless of all other circumstances.

The service they offer you is something larger. They try to know the new fabrics, the new colors, the new fashions and familiarize themselves with everything worth while.

They try to study what styles are most becoming to certain types. They know how a limited clothes income may be spent most serviceably, and how a most generous one may be spent most wisely.

It is the highly specialized advisory service that they offer. And as to courtesy, well, there's a spirit of friendliness and cheerfulness that is not reserved to only a few. It is bestowed upon all visitors whether they buy or not.

Market News

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 15—Marked by regularity again characterized opening quotations in today's stock market. Some of the oils made partial recovery from recent heaviness, California Petroleum rising a point and the Pan American issues improving fractionally. Davison Chemical advanced 1/4. Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil dropped to a new low in reflection of the new stock offering.

Additional new low records were made by Transcontinental and Pure Oil, Royal Dutch and Willys-Overland. Buils were firm, gains of a point being made by Reading, Southern Railway preferred, Pittsburgh and West Virginia and Atchison. Industrials were under pressure, Stewart-Warner dropping two points. Foreign exchanges opened unchanged. Bullish demonstrations of strength in dividend paying rails, the Pan Americans, California Petroleum, Crucible Steel, Dupont, Davison Chemical, and Allied Chemical provided the only exceptions to the downward trend of prices in the forenoon. Motor and rubber shares were supplemented by active selling of Central Leather, U. S. Alcohol, International Paper and American Sunatra Tobacco. Over a score of low priced industrials established new minimum prices for the year. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent.

Professional selling pressure brought about some material recessions in prices in today's stock market. More than fifty stocks, including United States Steel common, established new low records for the year. Sales approximated 800,000 shares. The closing was weak.

Chicago Grain And Provisions

CHICAGO, June 15—Wet weather impaired the crop outlook, especially in Kansas and led to increased buying of wheat today during the early dealings and gave a material lift to values. According to one authority the condition of the crop in Kansas was at such a critical stage that the rain would be likely to destroy a heavy percentage in the area that has had the best promise. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher, with July 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 and Sept. 1 1/4 to 1 1/2, were followed by moderate further gains.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1/4 higher, July 8 1/4 to 8 1/2, the corn market scored an additional advance. The close was firm 1/2 to 1 1/2 and Sept. 1 1/4 to 1 1/2.

Oats started at a shade lower to 1/4 gain, July 4 1/2 and later made a little upturn for all months.

Higher prices on hogs strengthened the provision market.

Prices closed firm at 1/2 to 1 1/2 advance with July 8 1/4.

Just Look at 'Em

While I was riding on a Como-Harriet street car, an elderly woman boarded the car. After settling herself down into a comfortable position she noticed that the passengers were looking at her feet. She looked down at her feet, and to her amazement, she saw that she had left her house slippers on. "My feet! Look at my feet," she exclaimed, and rushed off the car, which had just come to a stop.—Allanapolis Journal.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED AGAINST CASTOR DEFENDANT FAILS TO APPEAR AT HEARING

After hearing evidence in support of the application of the plaintiff for a temporary injunction in the suit of James Wilson, New Boston, in which he is demanding $10,000 damages from Harry Castor, widely known state prohibition inspector for alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, Claudia Wilson, Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court this afternoon granted the relief sought by allowing a temporary order to issue.

Restraining Castor from visiting the Wilson home or doing any other of the things complained of in the petition, which contained charges of a sensational nature.

The defendant was not present at the hearing, officers of the court, having failed to locate him although having conducted a vigorous search in an effort to serve him with legal papers in the case for the past 24 hours. Three of four witnesses, Dewey

Parsons, John Wolfe and Walter Kayser, all of New Boston, called by the plaintiff, testified to having seen Castor frequently call at the Wilson home, usually in the absence of the husband and children, and that he would stay as long as three or four hours at a time. They also told the court of having often observed Castor and Mrs. Wilson out auto riding together, while Elmer Duncan declared that the association of Castor with Mrs. Wilson was neighborhood gossip.

A letter purported to have been written by the defendant to Mrs. Wilson, containing endearing terms and inviting her to spend a vacation with him, formed an interesting exhibit in the case. Attorney George W. Sheppard appeared for the plaintiff.

Candidates Still Entering Field

It developed today that two more Republicans had entered the race for nomination for mayor in New Boston this fall when Lawrence Finch and Squire C. O. Davis, both well known residents of the village, filed their declarations with clerk of the election board, John F. Jubaly.

James G. Bauer, Republican councilman, filed today as a candidate for the nomination for city auditor.

Al Weghorst, present president of city council, is seeking that office again. He filed his declaration today. Weghorst is a Republican. Attorney W. L. Dickey, who was recently appointed councilman from the second ward is to make the race to hold to his office. He filed today as a candidate on the Republican ticket.

Y., was removed to a ward in Bellevue Hospital this morning after having been exposed to x-rays of 250,000 voltages for 55 hours in an effort to effect a cancer cure. This was the first time that an experiment had been conducted for such a long time and with such high voltage.

Dr. I. Seth Hirsch, director of the Bellevue x-ray laboratory, said it would be several weeks before he could determine whether the experiment had been successful.

The usual maximum x-ray to which a patient has been exposed heretofore, were of only 150,000 volts and the maximum time usually 100 minutes.

Gibbons Says Dempsey Cannot Assimilate Body Blows; Will Prove It On July 4th

By TOM GIBBONS.
(Copyright, 1923, by King Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

SHELBY, MONT., June 15.—It's the belief of some that Jack Dempsey is unbeatable because they think he can't be hurt. But the champion's record shows to the contrary. It demonstrates quite conclusively that Jack has been badly hurt in battles—and hurt by some men whom I feel can't drive in punches as hard as I do.

Johnny Sundenberg, more or less one of those "never-wuzzers" of ring-dom knocked down Jack something like seven times in one of their fights. They say out in San Francisco that the last time Jack fought Willie McEhan, Dempsey was hanging on the ropes at the end of the fourth round.

Then there was that mixup with John Lester Johnson. The negro caved in several of Dempsey's ribs and from what I have read of that fight Jack had to take a mighty tough beating and do a lot of holding to last the distance.

Jim Flynn is credited with a knock-out victory over Dempsey. Whether he did it by "accident" or whether Jack really was knocked cold is something I don't know for sure. But the fact is indisputable that Dempsey's record shows him charged with a knockout.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY; FIRST CHRISTIAN BEATS SCIOTOVILLE, 5 TO 3

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
First Christian	1	0	1.000
Sciotoville M. E.	0	1	.000

Displaying a brand of baseball that at times equaled and was perhaps better than displayed sometimes in the Industrial League, the First Christian and Sciotoville M. E. nines played the curtain raiser in the Portsmouth Sunday School League on the sixteenth street diamond last evening when First Christian came out to the winner, 5 to 3, in a five inning battle.

The first game witnessed by a good sized crowd, brought two well-matched teams together and should the other three teams show the same class, it can safely be said right here and now that some mighty root contests are to be waged on the North End lot before the season closes. Every effort will be made to have each of the five teams as strong as the other so that no one team will have a runaway in the race for the pennant.

Manager Joe Barber of the First Christian nine, and Rev. A. P. Cross of the Sciotoville M. E. team, put teams on the field that were composed of players who have played baseball for several years and several of them have played in the Industrial League. Rollins who occupied the mound for First Christian, had pitched considerable independent ball in these parts, while Crawford, Lowry, Curmuto and Barber have been seen in action with Industrial League teams. Manager Cross was shy one or two regulars last night when the Arts brothers failed to put in their appearance, but he filled their places and put a fighting nine in the field with all of them players of experience. Potts, who performed at first base last year in the Industrial League and last year was in the Blue Grass League. The majority of the others have played considerable independent ball.

Hits were few and far between, the winners showing better form in making hits count for the second 5 tallies with only five safe singles. Sciotoville garnered six safeties but they did not come when hits meant runs.

Edward "Buck" Yeager occupied the position behind the catcher and mimicked his usual good game without a sign of a kick from any of the players. The game last night showed one thing, and that is, that the game will have to be played much faster if seven innings are to be played each evening. The games start at 5:45.

and it will be hard to play seven frames before darkness puts an end to play.

The opener, play by play:

First Inning
Lowry was hit by a pitched ball. Roberts sacrificed to second to first. Barber doubled to left scoring Lowry. Martin threw out Kline at first. Rooster Smith dropped Wolfe's liner but nailed him at first. One hit, one run.

Kent drew a pass. M. Smith got two luses on his single through Roberts. Cole breezed. Kent counted on a passed ball. On an out at first by Potts. M. Smith registered. Breezes for R. Smith. One hit, two runs.

Second Inning
Rollins waited successfully. So did Curmuto. Crawford hit into a fast double play. Kent, Martin to Potts. George tapped gently out, second to first. No hits, no runs.

Martin tripped badly to right. Wohler weakly whiffed. Same for Waddell. Evans left id stranded on a puerile roller to first. One hit, no runs.

Third Inning
Lowry received four bad ones. He took second in a walk on Waddell's mad leave to the score board to catch him napping. Roberts couldn't connect with the third one. Barber took first on a four-ball wild pitch combination. Lowry reaching third. Joe stole second unopposed. Evans fanned Kline. On a half passed ball Lowry beat Waddell to the pan. Kent ended it by tossing out Wolfe. No hits. One run.

Kent sent a scower to middle for an out. M. Smith ditto to left. Cole satisfied easily to the left pasture. Potts gave Joe Barber an easy out.

Fourth Inning
Rooster Smith now pitching for Sciotoville. Haquard made his debut by fooling Rollins' rollicking roller. Rollins easily made third on Waddell's wild toss to center to catch him stealing. Martin threw out Curmuto. Crawford's sharp single to center, registered. Roberts. George was out. Kent to Potts. Lowry singled to middle scoring Crawford. Lowry taking third on the throw. Kent tossed out Roberts. Two hits, two runs.

R. Smith was plunked on the shoulder. Martin lined to short. Smith taking second on Lowry's high throw to first to double him.

Wohler watched the third one float by. Waddell walked. So did Haquard. Wolfe took Kent's fly over in left. No hits, no runs.

Fifth Inning
M. Smith made a long run to nail Barber's fly. Kline tripped under the score board. He counted on Wolfe's drive through second, the latter promptly stealing. Grounder to first for Rollins. Curmuto skied to middle. Two hits.

M. Smith tripped to middle. He counted on Cole's hit over first. Potts forced Cole, second to short. Rollins and Kline caught Potts napping at first. R. Smith hit safely to left. Martin struck out.

NOTES OF THE GAME
Joe Barber's outfit is now off in the lead. They have a strong team. Fans who saw them last evening are predicting they will be hard to head off.

The Sciotoville club is a conglomeration of last season's first, second and third teams with some entirely new blood added. M. Smith and Potts are new comers, the latter from the Blue Grass League last year. Cole learned to play with South Webster when they were in high school. They are graduates from last year's Boy Scout teams. Martin, Wohler and Evans are up from Sciotoville's second team of last year. The others are from the first outfit.

Barber hasn't lost any of his old time cunning either at the bat or in the field. He played his usual heady game and was ready at any time to take up the box work if the opposition got to trifling too much with Rollins' delivery.

The stands are in bad shape as compared with last season and the grounds will require considerable work on them to get them up to the old Industrial League standard.

Manly and Second Presbyterian will lock horns this evening at 5:45. Fine weather is promised, the field will be in improved condition, and a splendid crowd will no doubt be on hand to root for their favorites.

Charlie Howland hitched his touring car on to a large iron rail and gave the field a good dragging just before hostilities began. It helped a lot. Of course nothing could be done with the water which covered large portions of left and center fields. The players simply disregarded it and made a number of nifty catches while standing ankle deep.

M. Smith got a hand when he made a long run in the moist going and robbed Barber of a triple. It was handsome fielding, highway robbery, pure and simple.

The field was lined with autos as in the days of yore. It certainly looked like old times, but the rooters didn't make as much noise as on other days. Takes a little time to pick out favorites.

It kept Howland busy during the game throwing out new balls as the old ones quickly got out of commission temporarily when hit on the ground to one of the outfield boys.

THE PLAY
Batter hits ball on ground down the first base line. The ball is two or three feet foul and the umpire, believing that it will remain in foul territory, calls, "Foul ball."

Just before reaching first base, the ball either takes a curve or strikes something that causes it to roll in, and it finally stops on fair ground just before passing first base.

It is apparent to everybody, the umpire included, that the ball is a fair ball. The umpire had previously ruled it a foul ball. When he so ruled the batsman stopped running as did the other base runners, there being men on second and third at the time.

Should the umpire change his ruling to fair ball or hold to his original ruling of foul ball?

THE INTERPRETATION
The umpire erred in calling the play foul. He should have waited until the ball came to rest.

The umpire, in calling the ball foul, suspended play, since the batsman who hit the ball stopped running, as did the other runners who were moving up on the hit.

Often during the baseball season umpires call a ball foul that the crowd believe is foul and vice versa. In the case stated it was apparent the umpire had erred in calling the ball foul, yet there was nothing for him to do but stick to his original position.

After having suspended play by calling the ball foul, it would have been manifestly unfair to the team at bat to change to fair ball, and permit the batsman to be retired.

In all fairness the umpire in such a case should stick to his first ruling, foul ball, even though the world knew it was fair.

How should a ball be played that is lying in water on the putting green? If your ball is lying in casual water on the putting green or the water is lying between your ball and the hole, you may putt it as it lies or lift it and place it behind the water, within two club-lengths of where it lay, or in a situation not nearer the hole, that will enable you to putt without interference.

Blair Getting In Fine Trim For Next Bout

Local boxing fans who have been watching the Nig Blair work-out during the past few days, claim that Gil Elchoff of Dayton is due for one big surprise party next Monday evening at the Winter Garden. When Blair began his period of intense training a month ago he weighed 164 pounds with his clothes on and when he stepped on the scales in the Smoke House Thursday afternoon he weighed 140 pounds. This is the lightest Blair has been since he fought Young Webb last September.

Nig's bout with Elchoff Monday evening is the most important in his career as a boxer. His showing against the Dayton boy will determine whether the local star will continue as an attraction or whether he will slip into the discard. Portsmouth fans and promoters are giving Blair every chance in the world. It is now up to him to show whether he is deserving of the present consideration he is receiving. The fans will get their answer Monday evening.

Officials for the big boxing show of Monday evening were selected Thursday afternoon and will undoubtedly meet with the general approval of the boxing fans.

Gibbons Acquires Punch With Kayo Power

BY BOB DORMAN
SHELBY, MONT., June 15.—A lot of things happened in 1920. Gibbons got a second crack at Harry Greb after a five-year wait, polished him off May 15, then he and Eddie Kane went gunning for Carpenter, Beckett, Wells and Boy McCormick over in Europe.

They found Carpenter doing music halls. He was too busy to fight Tommy. Beckett refused to be roped. Wells was fighting. McCormick made a hurried departure out of London to visit friends.

So Kane and Tommy went to Ireland—the birthplace of Gibbons' father and mother. They found the Irish swell folk.

Gets Irish Fighting Spirit
Tommy had a lot of time to think. He saw that cleverness would never get him any place. What people like is the old karo. He experimented with his punch going over on the boat and it worked.

When he came home he picked up some of the fighting Irish spirit. Kane ran all over the country trying to get him matches. Fellows in Gibbons' class knew he wasn't boxing any more—but punching—so matches were scarce.

Tommy started off 1921 by beating Higgins and Walker again.

Then he began doing things. He told Eddie Kane he wasn't a boy any more. He was ever going to do anything it was time he started. Kane told him to go to it.

Perfects New Punch
Gibbons perfected a new punch. He was going to try it out. Nobody but Kane and he knew what it was. But it sure kicked them over.

Then came Tommy's famous string of knockouts. On that list was Willie McEhan, "San Francisco fat boy," who went down in the first round in the bout at Cleveland.

Knocking a man out is like solving a problem. Gibbons solved it in his own mind.

He had but one idea now in fighting—finish them quickly.

It is more than just confidence. What you know you can do.

And Tommy knows he can add Jack Dempsey to his "knock-out" string.

Kinks o' the Links

A player and his opponent are approaching to the green. The opponent's masher falls dead and rolls to the cup. The flag stick is in the way and the ball strikes it, lodging on the edge of the cup, keeping it from falling into the hole. Can the opponent take the flag away, allowing his ball to fall into the cup? Is the situation considered as being out or is there a penalty attached for striking the pin in the first place?

It is best to have the flagstick removed upon approaching the putting green and carried to a safe distance. In match play there is no penalty for striking the flagstick while it is in the hole, or striking it after your opponent or his caddy have removed it, but if you strike it after you or your caddy has taken it out, you lose the hole. If your ball lodges against the flagstick you must remove the pin to see if the ball will fall in. Should it fall into the hole you save a stroke. If it stays on the green, you must putt again. If in match play the ball played from within twenty yards of the pin strikes the flagstick, in or out of the hole, it will cost you two strokes.

How should a ball be played that is lying in water on the putting green? If your ball is lying in casual water on the putting green or the water is lying between your ball and the hole, you may putt it as it lies or lift it and place it behind the water, within two club-lengths of where it lay, or in a situation not nearer the hole, that will enable you to putt without interference.

THE PLAY

Batter hits ball on ground down the first base line. The ball is two or three feet foul and the umpire, believing that it will remain in foul territory, calls, "Foul ball."

Just before reaching first base, the ball either takes a curve or strikes something that causes it to roll in, and it finally stops on fair ground just before passing first base.

It is apparent to everybody, the umpire included, that the ball is a fair ball. The umpire had previously ruled it a foul ball. When he so ruled the batsman stopped running as did the other base runners, there being men on second and third at the time.

Should the umpire change his ruling to fair ball or hold to his original ruling of foul ball?

THE INTERPRETATION
The umpire erred in calling the play foul. He should have waited until the ball came to rest.

The umpire, in calling the ball foul, suspended play, since the batsman who hit the ball stopped running, as did the other runners who were moving up on the hit.

Often during the baseball season umpires call a ball foul that the crowd believe is foul and vice versa. In the case stated it was apparent the umpire had erred in calling the ball foul, yet there was nothing for him to do but stick to his original position.

After having suspended play by calling the ball foul, it would have been manifestly unfair to the team at bat to change to fair ball, and permit the batsman to be retired.

In all fairness the umpire in such a case should stick to his first ruling, foul ball, even though the world knew it was fair.

AND THEN WHAT NEXT?

PETITIONS are said to be under way to submit an old age amendment to the voters of Ohio. In its briefest terms the provisions of the amendment are that the state shall pay to every person reaching the age of 66 years and having property valued at less than $2,500, the sum of $350 per year.

It is incredible, except from the fact, that such a preposterous proposition should receive serious consideration of the sort that would impel the raising of the very considerable sum, outside of the cost to the state, of getting the proposal to the ballot box.

No consideration can have been given to the expense it will involve in the way of taxes and the source of corruption and dishonesty it would become, if enacted into a law. It would immediately double the entire state taxes and revenues from all sources; it would in time take away from industry and thrift their saving power and make a state of liars, profligates and mendicants.

There are five million people in Ohio. Watch the obituaries and the court proceedings and you will find that not one-tenth of those who die after reaching the age of 66 have estates valued as high as $2,500. There would be more not possessing that much at the age, if they knew a pension of $350 a year was to be the reward of ineptness. Why, if one were worth $5,000 on his sixty-sixth birthday, he could afford to give or throw half of it away and ask for the old age pension. If he had ten thousand in cash and a wife, he would still be ahead if he would dispose of four-fifths—not including the wife—and took the pension. For then he would get $700 annually.

This project is a development from other socialistic adventures upon which the state and republic have ventured within the past few years. It may appear extreme now, but once granted there will be something more "progressive" to press right on its heels.

TURNING A PRETTY PENNY

FOR the account of the British government seventy million dollars in bonds were bought on the New York market, Tuesday.

Thereby, let it be recorded, England will turn just $1,750,000 at the expense of Uncle Sam. How does that come about? Well, England owes the United States a mere batallé of six billion dollars. When the latter issue the bonds, on which they got the money to loan, they in an unguarded moment inserted a provision, that the bonds could be used at face value for the discharge of debts owing to the government. Those bonds, that is some issues, are selling below par, say two cents on the dollar—that was the price England paid for Tuesday's batch—thus by buying them at the day's quotation England will make a saving, as she is to use them on a debt installment she will pay in a few days.

There isn't anything wrong in the action either. We wouldn't say either that this government, or its people lose anything by the transactions. If the payment were made in money the chances are nine to one it would lie in the treasury at Washington, until it caught the eye of the rapacious tax-spenders, and then, Good Night!

With just enough tartness in the air to make you want to lay under cover till late in the morn, it is a waste of good money to advertise summer resorts to this blessed portion of the vineyard.

It is small wonder Kilbane met his overthrow by the Frenchman. Cirqui was one of the gallant host that at Verdun made the world war's famous battle cry—"Thou shalt not pass—the sustaining inspiration of the war. He had a jaw bone shot away, a surgeon replaced it with a bone from a rib, he got well quickly and then went back into that inferno.

The Cincinnati Enquirer is an also that views with alarm the candidacy of Henry Ford for president. Like the others it thinks he is utterly unqualified for the job and has no chance of securing it.

Hard times are not coming, they are already here. The number of persons with million dollar incomes has dropped from 216 in 1916 to 21 in 1921, and there are less this year.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 15—Thoughts while strolling around New York. Hazy outside the Plaza. Red and green shoes. Tattered woolly dogs. Bugs Raer buying peanuts. Bare-headed hikers. Flower sellers. The trumpeting of a zoo elephant. One-gallussed ragamuffins splashing in a public fountain. Afternoon madders. Why are chop suey places on the second floor? A single hack following a white hearse. Push carts selling bath towels. Eighth Avenue's Lawyer's Club. Court fixers and ambulance chasers. A school for eccentric dancing. A sprinkling cart in front of a milk depot. Bulky crates. Wilting vegetables. Junk.

Wonder if people really like pickled herring. The pristine splendor of newly asphalted streets. A shine parlor with broadway panels. A school for eccentric dancing. A sprinkling cart in front of a milk depot. Bulky crates. Wilting vegetables. Junk.

A lunch room named for Barney Google. The ancient Blacksmith's Club now a watch shop. A taxicab driver who actually has changed. The fragile grace of blues. A sign reads: "Foot Correctionist!" Brokers bowling home. They look laggard.

Walter Kingsley—a press agent who rides in a Rolls Royce. And is a collector of rare editions. An overturned bus. Commuters racing to trains. Neighborhood street girls. A New York way of getting acquainted with people in the same block. Time to go home.

One of the cafes in the Astor is the meeting place of moving picture magnates at lunch. The table linen has been splashed so with figures each day the management has provided pads and pencils along with knives and forks.

It is not confined to movie men—this custom of writing on hotel table linen. There is a hotel near Grand Central where a steel producer lunches each day. When he has finished and is enjoying his cigar he draws pictures of a cow for a half hour. It is always the same cow and he says it aids him in working out knotty problems.

In Thirty-fourth street's crowd a woman suddenly gave an agonized scream. She had suddenly discovered that she had lost a diamond bracelet. When policemen came she was half fainting. Then she learned she had the bracelet on the other wrist.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

WEATHER

By Berton Braley

"WHETHER it rain or whether it snow,
We shall have weather, whether or no."
And whether we smile or whether we frown,
The weather won't alter a bit for us.
So when it's foggy we won't complain,
And when it's rainy we'll let it rain,
And when the weather is clear and fine
And Old Sol's shining, we'll let him shine!

ALL right, all right! That is cheerful stuff.
But just a little of that's enough!
It's true that nothing we do or say
Can change the weather we get each day.
But when we've planned for a day outdoors,
And the sky above us just pours and pours,
And all our pleasure is on the bum,
We get relief if we grumble some!

"WHETHER it's cool or whether it's hot,
We shall have weather, whether or not."
But though I'm cheerful as I can be,
I like to feel that I'm wholly free
To kick and growl if I do not like
The kind of weather I chance to strike.
Over the climate I've no dominion—
But I'm entitled to my opinion!

wrist. "That often happens," said the corner policeman.

When I saw this little incident on Thirty-fourth street it struck me as a topic for an interesting paragraph. But on paper it looks different. About as insane an item as I have ever seen.

The ladies are now hiding their eyes. All the new hats almost completely conceal the orbs, luminous or otherwise. Some say it is a little Turkish conceit that came from the harem influence. At any rate, only the lower half of the face is revealed. The cars, or at least the lobes, are now out in the open, the knees have been covered up and a bit of modesty is being restored to a somewhat immodest world. And the short skirt went out of fashion with the toddle. Fashion designers say it will not return again. It was too much overdone.

An Unusual Salesman

At the Direct Mail Advertising Convention at Cincinnati, O., the story was told of an advertising salesman who, upon arriving at the hotel, was met by the porter who wanted to know how many trunks he carried.

"I use no trunks," the salesman replied. "Oh, I thought you wuz one of those traveling salesman gentlemens," said the porter.

"I am, but I sell brains, understand? I sell brains."

"Make a noise like a chicken," the order came.

"Oh, I can't imitate a chicken," the nurse protested. "Well, if you can't I'll ask daddy—he can. He treats 'em!"
